HIS BLOODY CAREER

Edwards Makes Startling Confession to Chattanooga Jury.

SAYS HE HAS KILLED 14 MEN

Man on Trial in Hamilton County Tenn., for the Alleged Murder of Thos. Brooks in December Last Claims He Killed Many Others.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 5.—"I have shot and probably killed fourteen men in my time and the list may run up to twenty-five."

That remarkable statement was made Thursday by D. D. Edwards, who is on trial for killing Tom Brooks last December.

He was asked by the attorney general if he killed any one previous to the killing of Brooks. Edwards admitted that he had killed a man in Kentucky. "Is that all?" asked the attorney general.

"Well," said Edwards, "I have shot and probably killed fourteen men in my time."

He stated that most of this occurred in Breathitt county, Kentucky, in feuds and in a strike at Chicago several years ago. He is a native of Breathitt county and recently aided in running down and capturing in the mountains of Breathitt the Lookout mountain wife murderer, Ed Turner.

Edwards did not change expression or give any indication of feeling when he confessed under cross examination to his bloody record, but after getting off the witness stand, added that the list might run up to twenty-five "If everythnig was included."

Since then he has been in another state, but when notified of the date of his case, came back to Chattanooga immediately. He is considered the most remarkable prisoner ever tried in Hamilton county.

1,569,977 BALES.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The census bureau has issued a complete report showing the quantity of cotton ginned from the growth of 1907 up to Sept. 25 was 1,569,977 bales against 2,057,285 last year, and 2,355,716 in 1905. Report counts round bales as half bales.

The total number of active ginneries reported was 18,152. Total ginneries reporting to Sept. 25 last year was 20,418 and in 1905 was 21,389.

Cotton Convention Closes.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The second and closing day's session of the national convention of cotton manufacturers Friday was marked by the presence and the delivery of addresses by two members of President Roosevlt's cabinet. They were Secretary Straus of the department of commerce and labor and Postmaster General Meyer. Others on the program were D. A. Tompkins of Charlotte, N. C., on "American Shipping on the Deep Seas;" Arthur R. Marsh of New York city, on the "Economic Position of New York's Cotton Exchange and Its Relation to the Cotton Trade" and L. Greene, freight traffic manager of the Southern railroad on "The Loading and and Shipment of Cotton."

Anna Gould Obtains Divorce.

Paris, Oct. 5.—The time limit, in which Count Boni de Castellane could appeal to the court of causation has passed and the divorce decree obtained by Mme. Anna Gould, the former countess de Castellane, is now absolute. Mme. Gould has settled out of court the creditors' claims both against herself and the count.

Safe Dynamited; $900 Stolen.

Troy, Ala, Oct. 5.—Robbers on Wednesday night blew open the safe in the store of Stinson & Wilson Bros. at Goshen, 12 miles south of this place, and secured $900 in cash.

GIRLS LED TRAMP'S LIFE.

Wanted to Escape Drudgery of Dish Washing and Floor Scrubbing.

New York, Oct. 5—To escape the drudgery of washing dishes and scrubbing floors two servant girls, Stella Bena, aged 17, and Rose Miller, aged 18, lived for two months like tramps in the vicinity of Flushing, L. I., stealing milk, bread and meat from doorsteps, clothes from wash lines and cooking utensils, wherever they chanced on them.

These foraging expeditions were conducted at night and by day the girls lounged in thickets, slept and watched the boats go up Long Island sound. Detectives ran across the girls' camp and took them by surprise as they were squatting over a gypsy fire before a rude tent.

One of the girls was caught alone though she bit and scratched vigorously but the other got away for a short time.

When the prisoners were arraigned before a magistrate in Long Island City, Rose Miller, who is a tall and rather handsome girl, explained plausibly that utter weariness of housework had driven them to tramp life.

MEMPHIS IN GALA ATTIRE.

Tennessee City Did Honor to Visit of President Roosevelt.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 5—Thousands of visitors and citizens jammed the streets of Memphis Friday to do honor to President Roosevelt and many distinguished men who are here attending the second annual convention of the lake to the gulf waterway convention which met at the auditorium rink Friday morning.

Never before in the history of the city of Memphis had such a lavish display of flags and bunting been in evidence.

The buildings on the principal streets were a mass of color and pictures of the president were numerously displayed throughout the city.

Among the delegates to the convention were Governors of sixteen states, United States senators, representatives, noted engineers and prominent men from all sections of the country traversed by the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

DID MOTHER FAKE STORY?

Thought Tramp Story Was Invented to Placate Husband.

Burlington, Iowa, Oct. 5—It is now believed that the story told by Mrs. John Hathaway that a tramp tied her son to a fence post and burned him to death because she had refused to give the tramp food, is untrue.

The Hathaways live near Oquawka, Ill., and the woman's story had produced intense excitement in that immediate neighborhood.

The coroner's investigation developed that Mrs. Hathaway had left her children alone while she went to a neighbor's and it is thought that during her absence the boy set fire to his lothing while playying with matches. The officials of Oquawka believe that Mrs. Hathaway invented the tramp story in order to placate her husband. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death and Frank Williams, a negro, arrested at Monmouth, Ill., on suspicion of being implicated in the alleged crime, was released.

Earnings of the L. & N.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 5.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Louisville and Nashville railroad was held Wednesday. The only eastern directors in attendance at the meeting were H. Walters, of New York, and Alexander Hamilton, of Petersburg, Va. The old board of directors was re-elected. The annual reports showed gross traffic earnings of $48,253,945. President M. H. Smith's report showed that the equipment had been greatly improved during the year.

Negro Confesses Two Murders.

Dayton, O., Oct. 5—Layton Hines, negro, has confessed the murder of Anna Markowitz, of Covington, Ky., and Abraham Posen, of Indianapolis, in Dayton near McCabes park, on Aug. 5. According to Sheriff Boes, Hines is said to have confessed that he shot Cohen, assaulted the girl and then strangled her to death.

ACCIDENT IN MINE

Explosion of Gas Caused Roof to Cave In.

MINERS WERE IMPRISONED

Probable Fatal Accident Has Occurred In Mine 7 of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company at Pratt City, Ala.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 5—An explosion of gas occurred in mine No. 7, of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company at Pratt City, Ala., early Friday morning, and a cave in of the roof followed.

Four miners, including the bank boss, were caught behind the cave-in, and are believed to be dead.

SUES KING FOR $100,000.

Sensational Law Suit Begins in Italian Court.

Rome, Oct. 5.—Claiming that the late King Humbert of Italy ruined her when she was a girl of 16, the Countess Cecarina Gaddi Hercolani has begun a sensational lawsuit against Humbert's son, King Victor Emmanuel, claiming $100,000 for the support of herself and her child, the son of Italy's former king.

The scandal of the suit shocks all Italy and public opinion is strongly against the determination of King Victor to fight the case.

It is stated that the only reason for the royal family contesting the claim is to put a stop to the numerous demands of other women who assert they were victims of the gay-living Humbert.

The Countess Hercolani announces she will not be deterred by fear of publicly proclaiming her shame from showing the kind of man Humbert was. The courts have commanded General Ponzio Vaglia, minister of the imperial household, to prepare the defense of King Victor, and there is no way now of stopping the suit.

LEVIED ON PENITENTIARY.

Came Near Being Knocked Down to the Highest Bidder.

New York, Oct. 5.—The two hundred odd prisoners in the Essex county, New Jersey, penitentiary at Caldwell have just narrowly escaped being dispossesed—theoretically at any rate.

Charles Jacobus, tax collector of Verona township, recently advertised the penitentiary and appurtenances for sale at public auction on Oct. 3 to satisfy an unpaid township tax debt of $78.50. At the last moment E. W. Crane, county counsellor, parleyed with Jacobus and obtained a stay of sale to allow of negotiations, and it is now said that the county will pay the $78.50 and place the penitentiary out of danger of being knocked down to the highest bidder.

What the opinion of the prisoners is cannot be exactly gauged. It is reported, though, that lemonade and cakes were distributed among them when the news that the penitentiary was saved to the county became known.

Candidate for Judgeship.

Marietta, Ga., Oct. 5—Hon. Newt Morris has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the judgeship of the Blue Ridge circuit, subject to the democratic primary, which will be held some time next spring. He is a former speaker of the house of representatives. Four years ago Mr. Morris was a candidate for the same office against Judge G. F. Gober, and the race between these two was one of the most exciting political contests ever known in this section of the state.

Cyclone Strikes Village.

Oklahoma City, O. T., Oct. 5.—A tornado struck the village of Pearch, situated in Roger Mills county, near the Texas line Thursday night, and it is reported to have destroyed the postoffice and to have damaged almost every house in town. No one is reported killed.

FOUND MOTHER DEAD.

She Did Not Return the Embrace of Her Little Son.

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 5.—"Mamma, I am hungry as a bear!" shouted ten-year-old Samuel Virgil Waters, as he entered his home in the basement of his home, and started to embrace the form of his mother, reclining on a couch. The caress was not answered, and then little Samuel discovered that his mother was dead.

In the hallway, sobbing piteously, were Hazel, Ethel, Edith, Gladys and Flossie, daughters of the dead woman. They range from 2 to 18 years.

Apparently in the best of health Mrs. Waters, aged 54, dropped dead of apoplexy, a few minutes before preparing the nonday meal. The father deserted his family about two months ago. His whereabouts is unknown.

"Papa will find out that she is dead and then he will come back to us," said little Samuel, as he tried in vain to comfort his sisters.

Samuel is a newsboy, and his meager earnings have been the family's main support.

NEW OVEN DISPLACES MEN.

Eight Out of Every Forty-eight To Lose Their Jobs.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 5.—Coking in Pittsburg and Connellsville districts is to be revolutionized by the adoption of a kind of coke oven which saves hours in handling and does away with forty men out of every forty-eight.

The sum of $1,100,000 has been invested in installing the new process and the success of it is assured by coking experts. It does away with the circular ovens and employs box-like structures with doors at each end.. When the coke is ready for removal a plunger is sent through the oven, which completely clears it, at the same time emptying the finished coke into cars. When it is ready to be removed from the oven it is sprayed automatically and cooled with great rapidity, expediting the matter of handling the finished product.

Unique Petition Filed.

Columbus, Ga, Oct. 5—City council faced Thursday night the most unique petition it has ever been called on to consider, when 100 washerwomen of the city council asked that a recent ordinance that was passed prohibiting vehicles from sidewalks be so modified as to give them the privilege of rolling their little clothes wagons along the walks. A good many of the washerwomen have struck on account of having to lug the clothes along on their head, in the old-fashioned way, and many people had to use hacks, drays and buggies in transporting the week's wash or else do without the services of a washerwoman. The aldermen set the machinery in motion to modify the ordinance at the November meeting.

Salt Trust Advances Price.

New York, Oct. 5—A tacit understanding has been reached between the international salt company known as the salt trust and certain independent manufacturers in regard to regulating the future course of the market for evaporated salt says the Journal of Commerce Friday. As a result of the understanding, prices have recently been advanced 50 cents to $1 per ton from the low figures prevailing a month ago, when sharp price-cutting was in progress.

Non Union Machinist Killed.

New Orleans, Oct. 5—John Denison, a nonunion machinist, died here at the Charity hospital Tuesday as a result of injuries received several weeks ago when attacked by men alleged to be striking machinists. He is said to have come to New Orleans from Washington or New York. No arrests have been made.

Statue of Mark Hanna.

New York, Oct. 5.—The collossal seated statue of the late Mark Hanna, modeled by the late Augustus Saint Gaudenes, will be cast in bronze at a Mount Vernon Foundry and it will be one of the last works of the lamented sculptor to be made. The statue will be erected in Cleveland, Ohio.

DR. ROWLAND'S TRIAL

HIS WIEE ALSO BEING TRIED

State Is Trying to Prove that Rowland Bought Aconitine, Which, It Is Alleged, Was Administered to Engineer Strange, Causing Death.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 5.—The pivotal point was reached Thursday in the trial of Dr. D. S Rowland and his wife for the murder by poison of engineer Strange on April 6 last.

Strange was the husband of the present Mrs. Rowland.

The evidence of Chemist Syme, who analyzed the stomach of the dead man, showed that a man could be poisoned by aconitine ,one one-hundredth and a fifth of a grain, and no trace of it be found by chemical test of the stomach.

The state won its great fight of Thursday in the Rowland trial in that it had admitted as testimony three important circumstances bearing upon the alleged murder of Engineer Strange by Dr. Rowland and wife, the former Mrs. Strange. The most important of these was the admission by the court of the evidence of the bookkeeper of the W. H. King drug company here that it had ordered 15 grains of aconitine, a deadly poison, quick to act, from New York for Dr. Rowland, and that the records showed that this was delivered to him on April 4th, two days before Strange had died, the state through its witnesses giving Strange's symptoms before death as those caused by aconitine.

The state also succeeded in getting into the case railroad tickets showing that Rowland and Mrs. Strange, a day before they were married, traveled by night in a Pullman while the hotel register showed that they registered in the Monticello hotel in Norfolk as Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Rowland. The state insisted that Strange's health was good, while the defense brought out every feature of heart disease.

The state rested late in the afternoon and the defense put on depositions from Memphis to show that in 1905 Strange suffered from heart trouble there.

SONG IS BARRED.

Capt. Cowles Refuses to Permit Band to Play Certain Music.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 5.—Enlisted men of the United States receiving ship Franklin declare Captain W. C. Cowles, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt, has refused to permit the band on that ship to continue to play a song entitled "Don't Scorn the Sailor," and which is intended to defend the uniform of the blue jackets.

They declare that Captain Cowles stated the song is "making a fool of the sailors," and if continued to be played might result in an infraction of the rules.

Admiral Evans, it is stated, has adopted the song for the use of the bands on the ships composing his fleet.

Shops Burned at Wadley.

Wadley, Ga., Oct. 5—The machine shops of the Wadley Southern Railway company were destroyed by fire Wednesday night, the flames being beyond control when discovered. This shop had only been completed about six months and was one of the best equipped in any small place in the state. The loss is estimated between $12,500 and $15,000. It is not known whether or not any insurance was carried.

Apalachicola Goes Wet.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 5.—A private telegram received in Columbus states that the prohibition election in Apalachicola, Fla., at the mouth of the Chattahoochee river, resulted in a victory for the saloon advocates. Apalachicola and Pensacola, further down the gulf coast, held their elections simultaneously, and in both cities the prohibitionists lost.

NEW CHURCH ORGANIZATION.

Society for Promotion of Sociability Among Presbyterian Congregation.

Through the instrumentality of Mesdames Geo. P. Morris, L. C. Lynch, Hay and Brumley, a large number of young people of the congregation of the Presbyterian church met at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Bodiford Friday night and organized a society, the object of which is to promote sociability among the young people of the congregation and to welcome visiting strangers and make them feel at home. There were forty-one present, and the organization was perfected by the election of Miss Myra McMillan president, Ralph Chapin vice-president, Dolph Vidal secretary, and Miss Maggie Belle Taylor treasurer. The young people manifested much interest in the work and the new society promises to be a great help to the church.

After the election of officers the evening was passed by the rendition of vocal musical selections, and the consuming of elegant refreshments served by Mrs. Bodiford. Everyone present is loud in praise of Mrs. Bodiford's hospitality and declare that they would like to make her home the regular place of meeting.

The society will hold regular monthly meetings.

LETTER TO COLSON & BLANDING.

Gainesville, Florida.

Dear Sirs: Josh Billings never said anything any truer than this: "Success duz not konsist ov never makin blunders, but not in makin the same wun twist."

N. R. Watkins of Lott, Texas, had his house painted some years ago, and it took 13 gallons of what he believed to be paint; he bought it for paint, and it looked like paint, the painter said it was paint.

He had it painted again; it took 7 gallons Devoe.

It cost $65 before; now $35.

He knows it is painted now, and he's got that $30 in a safe place. He's got his knowledge in a safe place, too. Yours truly,

THE GARDNERS HOME.

Had a Delightful Visit North, Where Mr. Gardner Bought Many Goods.

After a delightful visit of several weeks in Indiana, New York and other points, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gardner and son have returned to their home here.

Mr. Gardner, who is the manager any buyer for the large dry goods and millinery firm of The G. W. Hyde Company, spent the last three weeks of his trip in New York, where he went for the purpose of purchasing new and seasonable goods for the store here. Being an excellent judge of what is the latest, coupled with the fact that he is a shrewd buyer, he secured one of the largest, handsomest and most varied lines ever brought to this section of the State, and will have same on display at the proper time. The goods are now arriving, and the army of clerks at this popular store are busy getting them unpacked and on the shelves.

Our people may look for some exceptional styles and good values at Hyde's within the next few days.

Notice to Our Customers.

Death of W. H. Small.

(From The Waldo News.)

Mr. W. H. Small died at his residence Tuesday night. He had been in ill health from Bright's disease a long time, and suffered a stroke of apoplexy as he was coming in from work and fell at his door, not regaining consciousness till he died four hours after. He removed from Arkansas here several years ago and was a quiet, much respected citizen. Rev. Eads performed the funeral service and he was interred in the city cemetery. He left a wife and daughter and several grand-children.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

A dynasty of money is more dangerous than a dozen faithless kings. Are we building that dynasty?

Mix your tears with sunny smiles. Light will transform their dullness into a thousand rainbow tints.

I despise—in the sense of inexpressible hatred—the man who repeats a scandal, be that scandal true or false.

If tried before a jury, many a social fop and society favorite in this day would be pronounced an intellectual mendicant and a moral runt.

Walt Whitman, one of the most original characters in all literature, believes in a God whom man discovers as he discovers himself.

"The Little Devil" declares that a mule is a cross between a pile driver, a lump of lead, and a Kansas cyclone. I know some men who have to sling mud at a mule.

There is nothing that holds the heart in such perfect poise as the consciousness that somebody loves us. Its radiant light dispels our fears and doubts. The fleeing shadows of the night-time announce its presence.

It is impossible for a vulture to see the beauty of the skies and the clouds. His eyes is fixed on things below him. And there are men and women to whose vision the far-off stars are impossibilities. And for the very same reason.

A man, as in the case of Harriman who holds the West by the throat, may be a howling success as a buccaneer in bonds and a pirate on the high seas of finance, but the world swings round to the standard—millions do not make the man.

A gossip is invariably a scandal toter. He bears the same relation to social life that scavenger wagons do to city governments. They are necessary in a sense, but I'll be dratted if I'd want a business that requires only a lantern and a pail of lime.

Some men's failures are to be explained solely by the fact that they are on a cold trail. Some preachers ought to be barbers, some merchants ought to be depot porters, some bankers ought to be rock breakers. A man is sure to tree his coon if he hits the right trail.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw off headaches, rheumatism and ailments akin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard, Temple, Texas, writes, "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50c. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Caught Disease from Horse.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 5.—There are some reports of glanders in the state, and the state veterinarian is busy looking into them. As a result of contact with a sick horse a man is reported to have died in the county of Dickens, though Dr. C. A. Cary, veterinarian, has not yet been furnished with his name. A campaign of education is being planned in several of the mid-section counties out of which better live stock conditions are expected.

Attempted Suicide; Given Sentence.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 5.—Three days sentence in the police barracks of Macon is the sentence meted out to A. J. Riddle, who attempted suicide in Vineville, a suburb of this city. Riddle was arrested and locked up in police barracks to get over the effects of his trouble.

Order of Commissioners.

"To All Railroad Companies and Terminal Companies in the State of Florida:

"Chapter 5619 of the Laws of Florida, approved May 15th, 1907, requires you within six months after its passage to provide separate waiting rooms and ticket windows of equal accommodation for white and colored passengers at all depots along lines of railway stations controlled and operated by you, and at terminal passenger stations controlled and operated by you, and authorizes the Railroad Commissioners to enforce compliance with its provisions.

"The Railroad Commissioners so far have not been able to discover that there has been any real attempt on your part, except in a few isolated instances, to comply with this act, although more than two-thirds of the time fixed for compliance therewith has elapsed.

"You are therefore notified that the Railroad Commissioners intend to require obedience to this statute according to its terms and the powers and discretion vested in them by the same. R. HUDSON BURR, Chairman.

Death at Hawthorn.

Information reached this city Saturday of tne death of Mitchell, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baxley, which occurred at the home of his parents near Hawthorn on Friday.

The funeral was held Saturday, and was largely attended.

Deceased was a very popular young man, and his friends deeply regret his death.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequaled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.

SANTA FE NEWS.—

Young People Enjoy a Pillau—Death of Markey Ellis.

Santa Fe, Oct. 5.—Quite a crowd of young folks gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McGregor on Thursday evening to participate in a pillau given by Miss Alma Blith and Miss Mae Kirby. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing different games, after which they were conducted to a bountiful repast served by Mrs. W. R. McGregor and Mrs. N. R. Harris, which was enjoyed by all present. At a late hour, after thanking the host and hostess for the pleasant evening and the young ladies for the success of the occasion, and with the promise of another in the near future, all returned to their respective homes.

Rufus Kirby and Mrs. Ethel Pinkoson and little daughter, Jimnea, of the University City, spent a few days here last week as the guests of Miss Mae Kirby.

Mrs. N. B. Mott of Micanopy is visiting relatives here this week, the guestof Miss Pansy Mott.

Miss Mae Kirby visited friends and relatives in LaCrosse week before last.

C. C. Kirby of Jacksonville made a brief visit to his mother and sisters here yesterday.

Miss Sarah Sneller of Montbrook arrived yesterday and will open school here on Monday, the 7th. We are glad to welcome her in our midst and wish for her a successful term.

Master Markey Ellis, son of W. L. Ellis of Bland, died yesterday, after a short illness of hemorrhagic fever. He will be buried at St. Johns' cemetery today.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

a pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired.

Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ affected and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified indorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Miss Emma Runtzler, of 631 State St., Schenectady, N. Y., writes:—"For a long time I was troubled with a weakness which seemed to drain all my strength away. I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it and I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received. I am entirely well and feel like a new person."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all forms of Female Complaints, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and is invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

THE TAX QUESTION.

Referring to the tax question, The Brooksville Argus says:

"If the land paid the tax there would be more improvements in our rural districts and more people in the rural districts to make the improvements. Let the land, not the industry and enterprise of an agricultural country, pay the taxes levied to maintain the peace, good order and safety of a community."

The Sun is in thorough accord with Bro. Russell on this question. There are hundreds of large land owners in Florida who will neither improve their holdings or sell an acre to persons who would improve it, and they should be made to bear a larger proportion of the taxes for maintaining the government. As it is, the men of thrift and industry who improve their property are taxed for every dollar expended for improvements, but the wealthy persons who own large tracts of vacant land return the same at a nominal sum and thus escape their just proportion of taxes on property which they are holding for speculative purposes. All land should be classified and each class taxed at the same rate, the unimproved in the same class being taxed on the same valuation as the improved land.

Friends of Col. F. M. Ironmonger of Jacksonville, assistant general passenger agent of the Clyde Line, will regret to learn that his son, Frank, fifteen years of age, was painfully injured in New York on Monday by being run down by a heavy truck. It appears that young Ironmonger, in attempting to dodge a bicycle, came in contact with the truck, which knocked him down and rendered him unconscious. He was examined, and it was ascertained that his skull was fractured. The boy's father was notified, and he left immediately for New York. Col. Ironmonger has many friends in this city and section who will sympathize with him.

It is pleasing to note that Secretary Cortelyou, in his Wanamaker speech, spoke of that "high-minded philanthropist and splendid ornament to the profession of journalism, George W. Childs." No other publisher produced by this country deserves such a tribute more than Mr. Childs, and yet, unfortunately, since his death, some twelve years ago, little has been done to perpetuate his memory other than the keeping of his name at the top of the editorial column of The Philadelphia Public Ledger. His name is one of the best assets that great newspaper has. Philadelphia ought to erect a monument in honor of Childs.

The DeLand Record says: "There will be no oranges sold in Florida this season at $1.00 per box on the tree. The few crops which have been sold so far have brought about $1.50 on the tree, and there will be few oranges sold for less than this price. Tangerines are selling from $2.50 to $3.00 per box f. o. b. With a half crop, compared with last year, the growers are going to get good prices for their fruit this year."

Nature, so ready to aid every effort to assist her, is also quick to punish every violation of her laws.

THE CANAANITES.

The following extracts are taken from an article entitled "What Do We Know of the Canaanites," by R. A. Stewart Mascalister, M.A., F.S.A., Director of Excavations, Palestine Exploration Fund, as printed in The Sunday School Times of September 28, 1907:

"In answer to the question, 'What manner of people were the ancient Canaanites who, about 4400 years ago, drove out the rude aboriginal tribes?' we may fairly hold that they singularly resemble the modern Arabs who now hold their ancient territory.

"This has been established by actual comparison of bones of the ancient Canaanites, found in excavations, with the living bodies of their modern representatives. Both alike are people of moderate stature—perhaps five feet eight inches is the average for males, for females somewhat smaller. A height of six feet is rare in both the ancient and the modern race. So far as the skulls preserve indications of facial character, we can restore from them countenances with the heavy features of the modern Arab. It cannot be doubted that hair and eyes were uniformly dark.

"It is hardly necessary to say that the solitary farm-steadings which are such conspicuous features on the landscape of any civilized country were, for obvious reasons, unknown. The people congregated into densely congested cities and villages, surrounded by thick walls for defense. Round each city were the farm-lands and orchards depending upon it. These were possibly held, as in the case of the modern Palestinian villagers, in common, and divided annually by lot among the plough-owners, though there is some evidence that private ownership was also recognized. On such a point as this, however, we cannot, in the present state of our knowledge, speak dogmatically.

"The streets of the city were narrow, crooked, dark, and we cannot doubt dirty and unhealthy laneways, many of them blind alleys, forming a maze that to a stranger would be wildly confusing. The houses were huts, most of them of one story only, consisting of small windowless chambers of irregular shape, grouped around a central court. These rooms were for the greater part probably used for store-rooms and sleeping-sheds; very few of them were over twelve feet square. The daily life would be, as far as possible, carried on in the court, which would be provided with booths of reeds or of branches to keep off the hot rays of the sun. The walls of the houses were built of rough stones, rudely squared by hammering, and cemented together with mud. To each house was a cistern—a bottle-shaped excavation about twenty-five feet deep, quarried in the underlying rock, and lined with cement to keep the water secure.

"Some important discoveries have lately been made with regard to the burial customs of the Canaanites. The bodies were usually deposited in caves, as Abraham deposited the body of Sarah. The caves were either natural hollows in the rock, such as abound in Palestine, or artificially formed excavations, usually roughly circular. On the floor of these caves the body was laid, in a contracted position. Stones were placed round it, and earth strewn over it. For the use of the spirit of the deceased, vessels of food and drink were placed near by; not without pathos is the deposit of cooked meat, with a knife in it to cut it, and a saucer inverted over it to keep it warm, that was found in one tomb at Gezer. Spears, swords, ornaments, or other objects which the deceased might be supposed to require, were also deposited. These objects are valuable testimonies to the belief of the Canaanites in the continuance after death of a life similar to the earthly existence."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

Savannah Market Ruled Quiet and Steady for the Week.

Savannah, Ga., Oct 5.—The market for Sea Island cotton ruled quiet and steady, all the week, and moderate transactions were reported at about unchanged prices. The demand was mostly for fancy, with a little enquiry for extra choice, and none for the inferior grades.

Very little Florida cotton coming in, most of the receipts being from Georgia. The quality of the receipts is not very good owing to recent heavy rains.

Crop accounts are less favorable, deterioration having resulted from the persistent rains and reports from Florida appear just as bad as the Georgia reports.

The Census Bureau on Friday reported the number of bales of Sea Island ginned to September 25 at 4,240, against 2,689 last year, and 11,936 two years ago.

Quinsy, Sprains and Swellings Cured.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quinsy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valued for sprains and swellings. For sale by all druggists.

WORMS

"I had for years suffered from what medical men called Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. In August I purchased a box of Cascarets and was surprised to find that I "had 'em"—yes—a wiggling, squirming mass left me. Judge our doctor's surprise when I showed him thirty feet, and in another day the remainder (about the same length) of a tapeworm that had been sapping my vitality for years. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I trust this testimonial will appeal to other sufferers."

THE LATEST GOSSIP From GAY NEW YORK

BY OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

New York, Oct. 5.—New Yorkers don't know whether to take Nordica's plan for an American "Bayreuth" on the Hudson as a piece of clever advertising for the prima donna, or as a genuinely meditated fact. If it be the latter the musical authorities shake their heads and cite the practical dissolution of musical fervor even in famed Cincinnati; and then they add the obstructiveness of professional jealousies to make the success of the project doubtful.

James O'Neill's production of "Virginius" extracted from the New York critics varied evidences of their limited familarity with the so-called classic drama. But the humor of things consists in a poster quoting Winter's opinion of O'Neill's Roman role, when his son told me a day or two ago that his father is living in California. Is it possible that we have so progressed that we can see plays by wireless?

It is reported that the Yerkes mansion is for sale and that Mrs. Yerkes intends making her home in Chicago. Her late husband, Mizner, is running the Hotel Rand in this city. The "affinity" of the late Charles Yerkes has dropped out of sight, Europe being her reported dwelling place. The great Yerkes fortune is not expected to make much of a showing henceforth in this city, part of it deflecting to the West and the remainder disbursed abroad.

The known intimacy of Longworth with Fleischmann (former mayor of Cincinnati) leads New Yorkers to think it likely that Longworth will or will not run for the mayoralty of the Queen City as his father-in-law desires, regardless even of his allegiance to what Fleischmann may wish. It is generally believed that Fleischmann is politically dead, his chief claim to popularity being ample ability to finance a campaign; whereas Longworth is necessarily bound to his wife's father's political pleasure, whatsoever that may be, and has sufficient means of his own to finance himself whithersoever the President may designate that he try. New Yorkers have all along believed that sooner or later the President would designate Longworth for some foreign post of importance, for the sake of his daughter's social ambitions.

There has been an unusual amount of petty smuggling by passengers on incoming ocean vessels this late summer; so much so that the customs officers have been more than ordinarily vigilant. Why this fever for "forgetting to declare" has spread is not explained, unless it be that a larger number than ever have been abroad, hence the percentage has seemed greater. But they have certainly been catching them at the fine old smuggling trick, making them go to the "Captain's office" and settle.

George Hazleton, the lawyer and playwright, who wrote "Mistress Nell," which made Henrietta Crossman famous, has bought the Mansfield stage production of "Richard Third" and "The Merchant of Venice." To interviewers Hazleton has given the impression that he has a new Mansfield somewhere in reserve, but I am informed that he bought the productions either for Harrison Grey Fiske, or James K. Hackett, and that one of them will bring forward a star to utilize those princely productions.

In certain authenic quarters down on lower Broadway I learn that the last Cuban revolution is generally believed to have been financed by American money, of course for the furtherance of American ends. If this be true it is quite in keeping with the reported ardent desire of the better class of Cubans for annexation to the United States, and the open declaration on lower Broadway that ultimately that will have to happen. I hear quite a protest against the noncommittal attitude of our Government toward Cuba; but the protest comes from those who have money invested in Cuba, or who would like to make heavy investments there. Offers are made every day to supply me with a lot of "inside information" wherewith to enlighten you. But I am wary of it, for I fancy it would be prepared with a motive and that it is unlikely to be as dependable as I'd like to send you.

There is a young boy over in Hoboken who has invented a system of wireless telegraphy which, I am told, can and will cut into Marconi's and pick up one of those messages at will. It is stated that the Government has become interested in developing this young fellow's device, which he stumbled into, and that Government officials are undertaking its completion. Meanwhile the boy is said to be subsidized by our Government to do no talking to anybody, and to permit no one to know anything of his creation. Reports from the boy's home (where he has the thing rigged up) indicate that he has made one of the most remarkable discoveries of the age, and that it will, when developed, startle the world with its powers.

It seems to be quite true that Boldt, of the Waldorf, is to complete that amazing chateau of his at the Thousand Islands. It is said to contain one hundred and twenty-five rooms and to have fifty-odd bathrooms; and Boldt built it for a summer home. The story now is that his children have induced him to finish it for occupancy, and that there is no truth in the report that it has been sold for a summer hotel. I have seen the place often. It is a gigantic pile of dark stone, standing on Heart Island just at Alexandria Bay, looming up more as a Bastile than a country seat for an American gentleman of princely wealth. Surely it is pretentious enough; but is most sombre and conveys no idea at a glance of its wondrous architecture, upon which Boldt is alleged to have already spent two millions. 'Tis the show place of the entire St. Lawrence.

Lest We Forget

Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful, the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial. Sold by W. Assistant Cashier Said To Be Short.

Hattiesburg, Miss., Oct. 5.—The directors of the First National bank of Hattiesburg issued a statement Thursday night saying that the accounts of Assistant Cashier J. W. Harper are apparently $3,000 short. The directors further stated that Harper left Hattiesburg on September 25th last with the avowed intention of returning September 27th, but that he has not been heard from since leaving Hattiesbug. The bank is fully protected, the statement said.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 5.—Atlanta relatives of Henry Hartley, the man who was killed by a Southern railroad train near Macon, Ga., Wednesday morning, have not yet been located by the Macon police or detectives, although they have done their best. In case no relatives are found by noon the body of Hartly will be buried in the potters' field.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes for 33 Years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty-three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. C. Earls, Cynthiana, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by all druggists.

The Georgia State Fair will be held at Atlanta, Ga., October 10th to the 26th. The date of sale for these tickets will be from October 10th to October 25th inclusive. Parties in the State of Florida who desire to take this trip can get rates either from Jacksonville or Live Oak at the very much reduced rate of $8.85 from Live Oak and return, or $10.35 from Jacksonville and return. Final limit of the tickets is not later but up to midnight of October 28th. These tickets entitle party's admission to the grounds. For further and detailed information, write to Frank C. $5,000 IN PRIZES

A Competition in Needlework Which is Free and Open to All Who Desire to Enter.

A well-known New York business house, Buchan's Soaps Corporation, have just announced the biggest prize competition in needlework ever held. They agree to give $5,000.00 for the best work with the needle. There are six departments, each with its special list of prizes—fine sewing, lace work, embroidery, knitting and crocheting, infant's outfit, and the most original and unique production of needlework.

The unique feature of this contest is that there is no obligation or requirement whatever on the part of those who desire to enter. At the end of the competition, October 15, 1908, a great sale will be held in New York City of all those pieces of work whose owners wish them sold. No article will be sold for less than the price marked upon it by its owner.

Articles not winning prizes and not marked "To be sold" will be returned to their owners at the expense of Buchan's Soaps Corporation. This makes the offer an exceptionally liberal one, for no woman can lose anything, while everyone has a chance at the liberal cash prizes.

A booklet giving full details will be sent free upon request. Every woman who can do needlework should write to Buchan's Soaps Corporation, 225 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

THE SANTE FE TRAIL

WRITTEN FOR THE SUN BY. J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

A globe trotter returning to this country from the illimitable steppes of Russia, or from the terrible rigors of far-off Siberia, comes with vivid recollections of those vast stretches of land. Nor can he have less remembrance were he to penetrate the mysterious interior of Africa. No less would a foreigner be impressed with the vast solicitudes of the West—the weary reaches of Kansas prairies, the far-away stretches of the Texas estacaddoes, and the silent grandeurs of the Rockies. So used have we become to the "Mighty West" that in these days of commercial conquest we have all but lost the real sense of its ancient meaning.

Now, the tourist rides in Pullman cars over the foothills, the lesser ranges, and at last crosses the Great Divide. Over these highways he passes from the rigorous winds of a Texas or Kansas blizzard, until he finds himself among the perfumes and enchanted valleys of the Pacific Coast. One can hardly realize the transformation that has taken place in these few short years. Hitherto, lumbering desert schooners, harassed by all the dangers of the wildest frontier, dragged along the dusty highways of the plains and lost their path amidst the solitudes—the tortuous trails that led through the mighty canyons and along the dizzy precipices of a mountain trail. These old trails of the pioneer West have a lingering glory that refuses to fade.

Up in the Raton Hills of New Mexico, and within full view of the Snow Range—the great Continental Divide—this story finds me now. One can hardly imagine how one thought stamps its image as the other flies. For this finds me at the old Clifton House, deep in the fastness of the Raton Range—the old stage house of the Santa Fe Trail. This highway bore the traffic of the pioneers and the gold seekers out of the Mississippi Valley toward the peaceful Pacific and the land of gold.

Around this now almost deserted camp the builders of the West have gathered in the times that are dim. Around the door once hung the chieftains of the plains and mountains that they might barter with the pale face from the Middle West. Now this old highway, thrown up from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, on to Santa Fe, New Mexico, dips back into the distant past. No student of history can doubt but what over this very trail, over four hundred years ago, Cabeca de Vaca led his venturesome Spanish explorers. Close on his heels came La Salle, De Soto, Narvaez and Coronado, with their followers seeking to pierce the solitudes that lay beyond the snow-crowned, silent sentinels of the plains. Here and there they fell. Unshrouded and unsung, these Spanish spirits offered their bodies to the roving wolves and their bones to bleach on spots unmarked by shaft or slab.

Around this same hearthstone the daring scouts of former days gathered in a bond of brotherhood such as the world has never known. Here Lucien Maxwell, Tim Bridger, old Bill Williams, Cody—our "Buffalo Bill," Custer—the Indian tamer, Dick Wooten, and old Kit Carson—here, with all their matchless fearlessness—these conquerors of the West have often gathered. I shall never forget the day spent with Mrs. Allen of Raton—the only daughter of Kit Carson, one of the foremost builders of the mighty West. This hero died at Fort Lyons, Colo., in 1868, and his bones rest in the ancient cemetery at Taos on the Trail near where I am tonight.

There was a period when the Santa Fe Trail was the only connecting link between the East and the far West. As one of the old, lingering trappers from the hills said to me today: "Cap'n, there warn't nothin' in them days but the Santa Fe Trail, Injuns and varmints." The varmints are here, good and plenty, now. Only two nights ago a fellow on the bum pulled out of Raton to foot it over to the Range into Trinidad twenty-five miles away. When he hit the Santa Fe tunnel a big mountain lion disputed the right-of-way. My friend lost no time, for he had a down-hill pull into Raton, and plenty to keep him going. Ernest Seton Thompson got all the wolf material he wanted right here at Clayton, but if Roosevelt is keen to hunt big game here's his paradise.

Old Zebulon Pike—the man that Pike's Peak discovered in 1806 (though they claim he discovered the Peak)—is the first man that interested the world in this highway to the West. At first, the trade went by Taos—the Pueblo that hangs along the verge of the Cimarron Canyon, second only to the Grand Canyon of Arizona, the wonder of the world. In order to shorten distance they afterwards blazed a trail along the Arkansas river to a point where it takes a northward course. There they crossed it, made an air line south for Raton Pass, and on to Santa Fe. Along this dangerous highway dust-covered teamsters brought their laden prairie schooners from Mississippi river points into the far-away Santa Fe country on a scheduled time. And now, along this very trail four great mountain railways have performed unthinkable feats in civil engineering until in all the world there is no finer equipment to be found than right here where the throbbing mouguls drag their string up these mountain ways.

For ages—centuries at least—the Santa Fe Trail was by the faintest trace hewn out by the hoofs of patient burros that packed their loads across the Great Divide. Upon the discovery of gold along the Pacific shores the trail became the past of an enormous pilgrimage. In the days of the pack-mule it did not take the red-skin long to learn a trick. As stubborn and as patient as is the burro, yet he's a mighty timid beast. These bandits of the trail found out that all they had to do was to rattle a buffalo hide. And when these rattling hides and yelling Indians poured out like painted devils from some canyon those asses lost their bearings. As a result—pack, mule and all—landed in the bosom of the mountain pirates.

Among all the tribes south of the Ohio and west of the Mississippi none worked such awful havoc with the commerce of the trail as did the Comanches, Pawnees and Arapahoes. As early as 1829 the Government began to furnish troups to guard these caravans in their perilous pilgrimage through a country crammed with lurking and bloody red men.

These old, lingering pioneers, so loth to give up their frontier memories, will tell you that the biggest thing that was ever pulled off on the trail was the introduction of the wagon—"The Prairie Schooner." That's what old John Holland told me—the man who was raised on this trail, who helped to bury the bones of old Kit Carson in his Taos grave, and who now runs a gambling hell in Raton. There would be anywhere from seven to fifty of these wagons in a single caravan. The big ones were pulled by from eighteen to twenty-four mules; the smaller by from eight to twelve. When ready to strike camps they would swing the lead wagon into a circle until it caught up with the last wagon in the string. In this circular form they made for themselves a barricade against the attack of the red devils. In the early morning the head wogoner would give the signal for the breaking up of camp. Soon, down the long line, the teamsters would yell: "All's set!" "Stretch out!" Bellowed the captain—"Fall in!"—and the long caravan would swing out into the trail again.

For days and days the unbroken vision of the plains was almost unendurable. The shifting sand dunes and solitary wastes were broken only by countless buffalo that now browsed lazily on the plains, and then broke away with tremendous tread that shook the very earth. At intervals, when the sands were hot and the winds were blistering, a teazing mirage would paint on the desert sky a scene of shade and fount. They sighed—and understood. After awhile the first mountain lifted its head above the horrizon. There it stood a silent sentinel of the plains over which it had kept a ceaseless watch for ages. Then came the hills, the mountains, the ranges—and the Great Divide.

These tragic days are gone—the days when the intrepid pushed their conquest toward Pacific shores. Many sleep in unmarked graves. Many were long since devoured by desert ghouls. The buffalo no longer sniffs the coming of civilization. The Indian, sullen and silent, no longer breaks from mountain crevices or the stillness of the plains. It is enough. It matters not where lie the bones of these builders of the Western Empire. The stars will keep their vigils. The granite hills will mark the sacred spot. The mellow radiance of the moon on these snowy hills will still the tumult of the past with a witchery that's gentle as a mother's love. The thundering commerce of these hills will tell the story. Sleep on—sleep on ye builders of the West! Rest in unmarked graves—ye fearless pioneers, ye builders of the Trail! These mighty hills have always been eternal—they cannot let you die.

Wanted—Hardwood Timber.

They offer to buy it either in the log or sawed into plank. Now that the price of pine is off, this is an opportunity for sawmills to work on lumber in which there is a profit, as we are offering fancy prices for such lumber. This also affords the tie men, who are equipped with teams, a chance to get out logs at a good figure.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer which does not always excite suspicion because of its insignificance; but as the poison becomes more firmly rooted in the blood, the mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a rash breaks out on the body, the hair begins to come out, glands in the neck and groins swell, and often ulcerating sores form on the limbs, hands or face. But this is not all: if the poison is allowed to remain it works down and attacks the bones, causing necrosis or decay, and makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. It will not do to tamper with a disease so powerful as Contagious Blood Poison, for every day the virus remains in the blood the trouble is progressing toward a more dangerous stage, and may in the end get beyond the reach of any treatment. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers. This remedy attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the blood and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, strengthens the different parts of the body, tones up the system and cures this humiliating and destructive disorder permanently. The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S. and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood, and the sufferer completely restored to health. S. S. S. is not an experiment, it is a success and has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison in every stage, and being entirely free from minerals, is a safe as well as certain treatment. If you are suffering with this debasing disease get the poison out of your blood with S. S. S before it does further damage. Special home treatment book on the disease and medical advice sent free to all who write.

Beaten to Death and Robbed.

Shreveport, Va., Oct. 5.—The dead and mutilated body of George Hanson, aged 26, vice president of the Caucasian Printing company, of this city, was found Thursday under a band stand on Douglass island. He had been killed on the bank of the bayou with a heavy railroad wrench and the body dragged beneath the house during the night. His head was beaten to a jelly. Hanson's watch and money were gone. No arrests have been made.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

An Elegant Display.

At Mrs. McCormick's millinery opening the color scheme includes all the popular colors in millinery of this season. Window No. 1 was arrayed in purple, the leading color, while in window No. 2 was displayed the different shades of green, with the other colors displayed on the inside of the emporium. The marrow bow, in all shapes and richest colors, is the leading feature of the season, while the Morning Glory, in all the richest shades, is the popular flower. A number of shirtwaist hats, which are especially popular, will remain on display all this week. The establishment is truly a thing of beauty, and has been crowded until late at night by the elite of the town, who were simply amazed at the elegant display. All are welcome and will be cordially received. The hats are the prettiest ever seen in the city.

Notice.
